TOGETHER FOREVER

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

THE distraught parents of the young woman killed in a brutal roadside attack in Harlow have paid a moving tribute to their "wonderful and loving daughter".

Estyna Blunnie (20), who was just days away from giving birth to her first child, was found fatally injured on the side of the road in Howard Way shortly before 3am last Wednesday.

The heavily-pregnant mum-to-be was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital but doctors were unable to save her or her unborn daughter.

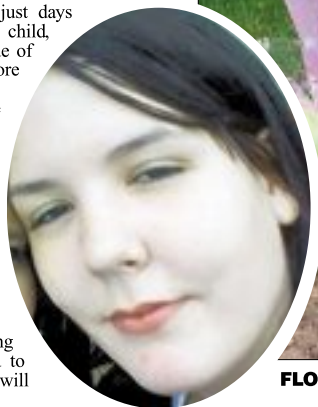

The day after her death her parents, Kevin and Susan, released a statement in which they spoke of their family's "tragic loss".

"Our daughter and granddaughter have been taken from us in such a tragic and horrific way; we can't begin to explain how we feel.

"Estyna was a wonderful and loving daughter who was looking forward to the birth of her first child. Sadly this will no longer be.

"We hope that everyone will understand the sadness in our hearts and let us mourn the passing of our loved ones. We would also like to thank everyone for their support to our family at this very sad time."

Scores of floral tributes, cards and soft toys have been laid at a bench near the spot where Estyna was found, with groups of friends visiting the scene over the past week to pay their respects.

FLORAL TRIBUTES: Bunches of flowers and soft toys were placed on a bench near the spot where Estyna Blunnie, left, was found

One, who did not want to be named, described the former Burnt Mill School student as a "larger than life" character.

"She was a lovely, bubbly girl who always had a lot of people around her," she told the Star. "This is a real tragedy for the community; even people who didn't know her have been affected."

Another friend said those who knew Estyna had been left "shocked and sickened" by her death.

"I am looking and reading the tributes but I just can't believe they are real," she added. "I just can't believe she is gone, she had so much to live for."

Social networking sites and online tribute books have also been flooded with messages of sympathy.

Writing on the Star website, Kimberly from Harlow posted: "Just going to see your flowers make me realise how loved you both are. Sleep well princess and baby princess."

A provisional post mortem examination carried out last week revealed Estyna had died from multiple head and facial injuries.

Police have appealed for anyone with information which may help with their inquiries to contact detectives at Harlow's Major Investigation Team on 101.

● Tony McLernon (23), of North Grove, Harlow, was remanded in custody when he appeared at Chelmsford Crown Court on Tuesday charged with the murder of Miss Blunnie and one count of child destruction.

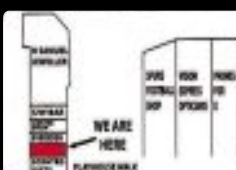

Judge Christopher Ball told him his next appearance would be for a plea and case management hearing on September 24 at which arrangements would be made for his trial.

Man left clinging to car bonnet by 'lunatic' driver

A YOUNG man who was told by a judge he had "driven like a lunatic" has avoided a jail sentence.

Joseph Robinson (20), drove his car at another vehicle while another man was clinging to the bonnet.

Robinson, of Park Hill, Harlow, pleaded guilty at Chelmsford Crown Court to charges of dangerous driving and assaulting Stephen McKeown causing actual bodily harm.

He was ordered to complete 240 hours of unpaid work, banned from driving for a year and ordered to pay £500 compensation and £1,000 legal costs.

The court heard the incident happened on December 9 last year after Robinson went to the pub in Old Harlow where his former girlfriend, Heather Gibbons, worked.

When she left work with friends including Mr McKeown, Robinson followed her car and at times was said to be just a few centimetres behind her.

Miss Gibbons pulled over and Mr

McKeown got out of the car. The court was told that Robinson then drove into him, forcing him to grab the windscreen wipers to stop himself from falling into the road.

Robinson then continued to drive at another vehicle with Mr McKeown still clinging to the bonnet, trapping Mr McKeown between the two vehicles.

Mr McKeown suffered leg injuries while an elderly passenger in the other vehicle suffered from shock.

As he passed sentence Judge Christopher Ball told Robinson: "You drove like a lunatic. Mr McKeown was hurt but it could have been much more severe. If I see you again it'll be 12-15 months jail."

In addition to the other penalties Judge Ball also banned Robinson from a number of pubs in the area for the next six months and told him: "You got yourself into a state over a young woman. You're not the first to do so but lessons must be learned."

Town a 'hotspot' for repossessions

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

HARLOW has been named as one of the country's repossession hotspots by the UK's leading housing and homelessness charity.

The town is ranked 19th in Shelter's 'repossession risk' league table, which compares the latest Government statistics on the number of mortgage possession claims issued per local authority area.

According to the charity's research only Thurrock and Luton had a higher claim rate in the East of England during the past year, with Harlow's 2011/12 average of 5.69 claims per 1,000 homes putting the town's homeowners at greater risk of repossession than those living in Broxbourne or Stevenage.

The report also uncovered a strong link between rising unemployment and repossession, with unemployment in hotspot areas rising at a much greater rate than areas with a lowest risk.

Shelter chief executive Campbell Robb said the findings made worrying reading for cash-strapped homeowners and called on the Government to help drive down the cost of housing across the region.

"Housing is the largest monthly cost for many homeowners yet the affordability of housing is not getting the same government attention as the monthly costs of other essentials such as food or energy bills," he said.

"Most people think that repossession will never happen to them, but rising unemployment, high living costs and high house prices mean that many people in the East of England are already living close to the edge and risk falling into a spiral of debt and repossession.

"The journey from being a homeowner to becoming homeless is frighteningly swift, with just one small thing like a wage cut, a health problem or a job loss meaning that a family can no longer meet their mortgage payments."

But Harlow MP Robert Halfon said the total number of private home repossessions in Harlow had been on the decline since 2007, with an average of 30 homes repossessed per quarter over the past year.

"Harlow repossessions are low and falling," he told the Star.

New test for superbug

A MORE effective way of testing patients for the deadly superbug C-difficile has been introduced at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Although the PAH NHS Trust already has one of the lowest C-diff infection rates in the country, doctors say the new two-step test is the most accurate available and will dramatically speed up diagnosis of the potentially life-threatening bacterial infection.

Cardiff to London run is uni pals' challenge

COMPLETING one marathon in a lifetime is an achievement for most people. But one man is currently tackling two a week in preparation for running 150 miles from Cardiff to London later this summer.

Daniel Jones (23), pictured right, of Whieldon Grange, Harlow, and two university friends – Ed Brewer (23) and Stuart Carter (23) – decided to set themselves the charity challenge after a few drinks on New Year's Eve.

The graduates, who have all got one official marathon under their belts, agreed to run 30 miles a day back-to-back to raise money for various causes close to their hearts.

"At first we thought the idea was impossible but then the more we

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

looked into it the more we realised we could do it," explained Daniel, who works as a high dependency carer in the Ramsay Jacobs Neuro Centre at Rivers Hospital in High Wych.

"Essentially we decided to do it in aid of the charity Brain Tumour UK as one of the guys lost his father to a brain tumour and I work with sufferers every day.

"However, we have since agreed to also donate some money to the Ramsay Jacobs Centre to buy a television for the rehabilitation work they do using a Nintendo Wii, and also for the Children's Trust charity which supports severely disabled young people."

The three friends, who are due to set off on their marathon challenge on August 4, are aiming to complete the feat in just five days and hope to raise more than £3,000 from their endeavours.

"Training is tough but I seem to be on schedule at the moment," said Daniel. "I run at least two full marathons a week on top of some smaller runs so I am certainly clocking up the mileage.

"I am excited though obviously very nervous about it. The main worry is that one of us will get injured and have to pull out; it certainly isn't going to be easy." He added: "We are all aiming to raise at least £1,000 each which seems reasonable for something like this. I am over half way there so hopefully everyone will get behind me and help give that final fundraising push."

To pledge your support to Daniel visit www.justgiving.com/dgjones.

Visiting orphans in need of homes

A CHARITY is appealing for Harlow families to welcome a Romanian orphan into their home for two weeks.

The Moreton Romanian Orphan Fund still needs three families to offer accommodation to youngsters visiting the area from August 10-24.

Publicity officer Paul Jarvis explained: "The charity will be funding the full cost of the trip meaning that families need only provide a child with a home, some food and a little love and attention.

"During their stay the children will be participating in a number of events organised by the charity including discos, a trip to the seaside, and a sports day. Host families are also welcome to join in with the activities, meaning the trip provides not only an opportunity to participate in a hugely rewarding programme but also to meet new friends."

For more details, contact hosting officer Barbara Saunders on (01279) 832001.

School's in for showroom staff

A HARLOW car dealership is preparing to go back to the classroom to raise money for their industry's main charity.

Harlow Volkswagen will be holding a Back2School themed fundraising event to raise funds for The Automotive Industry Charity which provides care, support and advice to people in the trade who find themselves facing hard times.

To support the charity during national BEN week (July 16 - 22), staff at the River Way site will be spending one day wearing school uniform and playing 'show and tell' by guessing old school pictures of their work colleagues.

"It costs approximately £12m each year for BEN to continue its vital work," said spokesperson Claire Whitehead.

"National BEN Week is an annual event aiming to raise awareness and funds for the charity as well as bringing people together from across the industry."

For more information about the charity, visit www.ben.org.uk.

Pedal power raises £1,000

STAFF at a Harlow supermarket went on a galactic mission to help raise money for their charity of the year.

Workers at the Tesco store in Church Langley took it in turns to cycle 546 miles on an exercise bike to complete their part of the chain's national 'cycle to the moon' challenge last weekend.

The event, which required all UK Tesco stores to collectively cycle the 238,900 mile distance to the moon over the two days, was organised to raise money for Cancer Research UK.

The store also invited local cycling organisation Hub & Spoke to conduct a family bike ride from their supermarket and local police community support officer Phylis Chipchase to security mark bikes and scooters.

"Our store manager, Mike Triscott, started off the race at 9.15am and we finished at lunch time on Sunday," said the branch's community champion Diane Harper.

"We had a great weekend racing to the moon and managed to raise just over £1,000."

MP visits health team

LOCAL MP Robert Halfon was given a clean bill of health when he visited Harlow Occupational Health Service.

During the two-hour visit to the charity's base at Templefields, Mr Halfon met board members and staff before taking advantage of lung function and hearing tests. Pre-dating Princess Alexandra Hospital, HOHS was set up almost 60 years ago. It works with local businesses to help keep their employees healthy, avoid workplace injuries and reduce work-related sickness absence.

Chief executive Debbie Watkins said: "It's lovely that our local MP supports local businesses in this way. He was genuinely interested in what we do and had lots of knowledge about other local businesses.

"We were really pleased to be able to show him around and share what we do with him."

Hospice lottery

Firefighters walk out in row over service cutbacks

HARLOW firefighters staged an eight-hour walkout on Thursday when they joined countywide industrial action in protest at frontline spending cuts. In the first of five strikes planned for the summer, members of the Fire Brigades Union joined the picket line outside Harlow Fire Station. The FBU claims the proposed cutbacks will result in the loss of one in five frontline crews from stations across the county. But Essex Fire Authority maintains that cuts are unavoidable after its funding was slashed by central government. FBU spokesman Alan Chinn-Shaw said support for Thursday's strike had been solid and described the public's response as "fantastic". "This strike is about cuts and imposed changes," he said. "Essex fire service has the funds; these cuts and changes are not necessary." Both sides in the long-running dispute are expected to sit down for further talks this week in a bid to avert further industrial action. The next planned strike is due to take place on Saturday.

Ballet school mourns death of founder

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor

A RESPECTED dancer and choreographer who set up Harlow's first ballet school more than 50 years ago has died at the age of 92.

Watford-born Leo Kersley was one of the first male ballet dancers to appear on stage with the world-famous Ballet Rambert in the 1930s before going on to secure a place at the Royal Ballet School in 1942.

Three years later he became the lead male dancer at Sadler's Wells Theatre Ballet, remaining with the company until 1950 when he left the UK for North America with his second wife, Janet Sinclair.

Settling in Colorado with his family, Mr Kersley spent 18 months teaching before moving back to Europe to take up a new post in Holland.

Encouraged to relocate to Harlow New Town in 1959, he moved his family to Ladyshot and set up Harlow Ballet School. Within two years the Kersleys had set up the Harlow Ballet Club, the precursor to Harlow Ballet Association, which is still going strong 51 years later.

With ballet becoming increasingly fashionable, the couple found there was no shortage of Harlow youngsters eager to learn and the fledgling group soon staged its first productions.

The school's early success led to the staging of the inaugural Harlow Ballet Festival in 1962, which boasted internationally-recognised artists on the bill and put the town firmly on the UK's cultural map.

Mr Kersley then played an instrumental role in convincing the council to build The Playhouse, where Harlow Ballet promptly took up residence following the theatre's official opening in 1971.

His skills as a teacher meant that many of his students were inspired to pursue successful careers in ballet, theatre and music. One of his greatest achievements came in 1967, when he saw five HBS members win places at the prestigious Royal Ballet School.

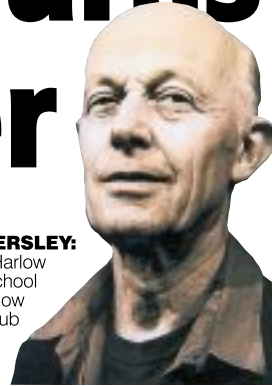

He continued to teach at the school up until the death of wife Janet in 1999, returning 10 years later to take his final class as part of the group's 50th anniversary celebrations.

Mr Kersley is survived by daughter Alexandra – with whom he was living in north London up until his death – son John, two grandchildren and one great grandchild.

See next week's Star for tributes to Mr Kersley.

Gilden Way homes inquiry under way

A PUBLIC inquiry into controversial plans for a huge residential development on a swathe of farmland bordering Old Harlow opened this week at Harlow Civic Centre.

The hearing started on Monday and is expected to last for eight days. It was called following an appeal by the development consortium behind the Gilden Way project – which includes plans for 1,200 homes, a new school, shops, community facilities and business units – against Harlow Council's non-determination of their original planning application earlier this year.

The authority is fighting the appeal on the grounds the submitted plans were premature in advance of an impending Governmental review of local planning blueprints.

The inquiry is taking place in the council chamber and members of the public are welcome to attend.

Following the inquiry the planning inspector will make a recommendation to the Secretary of State, Eric Pickles, who will make the ultimate decision on whether or not planning permission will be granted.

ON your marks and get set to go as Olympic fever hits Harlow this weekend.

The Olympic torch will arrive in town on Saturday at the start of day 50 of its 70-day journey around the UK.

Thousands of people are expected to line the streets to cheer on the five torchbearers as they carry it through the town.

And while the relay itself is expected to take less than 15 minutes to complete, many local groups will be busy keeping the waiting crowds entertained.

The relay is due to start at 8am but entertainment will get under way at 7am with members of the Kevin Adams Academy helping to wake up those at the start of the route in

The Harlow Steel Band and Hadri Taekwondo Fun and Fitness Club will take up positions in East Gate and West Square while people planning to catch a glimpse of the torch as it finishes its relay along Haydens Road will be treated to a medley of musical entertainment performed by the Harlow Salvation Army Band.

Beginning its journey an hour later, the Olympic Torch will start off from the entrance of Harlow Leisurezone before making its way up Velizy Avenue. It will then be

Pair will carry the torch on other legs of relay

TWO more Harlow residents are warming up for their moment in the spotlight as torchbearers for the Olympic flame.

Former Harlow youth councillor Bharat Thakrar (22), of Fir Park, and Kyle McLean (12), of Cooks Spinney, will have the honour of carrying the torch this week.

Kyle, who will take part in the Bury St Edmunds relay on Saturday afternoon, was nominated by staff at the Children's Support Service in Commenside where he studies.

Home school liaison officer Jackie Williams said: "All our pupils come to us with a variety of challenges, but Kyle also came to us with a determination to succeed and get over his challenges."

"We were thrilled when we found out he'd been picked and are all very proud of him."

Kyle's mum Sarah said all the family would be travelling to Norfolk to cheer him on.

"He is so excited," she said this week. "We had a difficult time a couple of years ago but he's done so well at that school and we've seen such an improvement."

"The whole family is looking forward to cheering him on and we are extremely proud of him."

Recent graduate Bharat, who is carrying the torch in Hadleigh shortly after 3pm tomorrow (Friday), said the occasion would be a double celebration for him.

"I just found out that I achieved a first class honours in my university degree so what with carrying the torch on Friday I am on a real high right now!" he told the Star.

"I am so excited but also a bit nervous as I have been watching it a lot on TV and am worried that I might trip or fall over! I think I will have to practise my technique a bit beforehand!"

Nominated in recognition of his work on behalf of young people during his five years on Harlow Youth Council, Bharat said he hoped the local community would tune in to see his run.

"I know it is going to be an experience I'll never forget and really hope as many people as possible will come along or watch online," he added.

journey through Harlow

carried through East Gate, Market Square, West Gate and on to Haydens Road down to the roundabout at Third Avenue. One of the five torchbearers who will carry the flame through Harlow is mum-of-two Jeanne Stacey (44), of Churchgate Street. "I'm so, so excited," she said this week. "I just can't believe how quickly it has come round and that no-one else from Harlow is running the town's relay. I was born and bred here so it really is just incredible and I am still so overwhelmed by it all. "I don't think it had really sunk in until last Saturday when I received my tracksuit. Then it all seemed real for the first time.

"I just can't believe it is happening to me and I know it sounds cheesy but I just feel so, so lucky and honoured for being given this opportunity."

She added: "All my friends and family are coming down to support me and most of the kids from the Phoenix Theatre School will be there which will be just brilliant. I know I'm really not going to get much sleep the night before!"

"As far as I am concerned I am doing this for Harlow and hope everyone comes out to support me. I think one of the best things about the torch relay is how it has really brought communities together and has really inspired people to come out and celebrate together.

"We have a fantastic town with really great people and I hope everyone comes out to celebrate that together. It is going to be emotional and I wouldn't be surprised if I end up crying! I will have to make sure I wear waterproof mascara on the day!"

Official torch relay 'presenting partners' Samsung, Coca Cola and Lloyds TSB will also take part in the celebrations by handing out various giveaways from their vehicles during the procession. Once the torch has left the town the entertainment will continue. The Harlow Town Centre Partnership and Harlow Council are organising a host of family orientated events and games throughout the town centre.

The Water Gardens and Harvey Centre will be holding free arts workshops and a variety of live music and dance performances, whilst children and their families are being encouraged to mark London 2012 by making their own Olympic torch for a community procession through the town.

Jean Clark, Harlow Council's portfolio holder for community and social inclusion, said the arrival of the torch was Harlow's "moment to shine".

"This is going to be a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for residents," she said. "Please come along and cheer on the Olympic flame torchbearers and take part in a huge day of celebration!"

Torch relay will light up Harlow

SIR, This Saturday the world will be watching Harlow when the Olympic torch relay arrives in town.

Although this major event starts at 7.30am – a time when most of us could be enjoying a well deserved lie-in – please can I ask that the people of our town come out in force to show their support.

Because of the route we may not be able to show those viewing at home that we have a pretty town, that we do have some beautiful old buildings and that we are surrounded by green countryside. However, we can show them our town is packed full of wonderful people.

Last month during the jubilee festivities I witnessed what I've always known, that given the right occasion a community will come together and celebrate in style. This is another one of those times.

Don't be one of the dissenters who say they can't be bothered or the Olympics are a waste of money. Like it or not it's here and will happen soon, so why not make the most of it?

Have an early night and on Saturday morning, whatever the weather, put on your brightest clothes and your biggest smiles and come see this once in a lifetime event.

This is the best chance we have to show the nation why Harlow can be a great place to live.

Ritchie Parrott
Moorfield, Harlow

Making the most of what nature provides

SIR, I regularly travel on the cycle tracks from Bishopsfield to the town centre on my scooter and I for one am delighted the verges are not mown ("State of grassed areas is verging on the unsightly", June 28).

There are myriads of wild flowers in amongst the grasses, from giant hogweed to cranesbill, dog roses, common vetch, clover, thistles and daisies.

There are so many plants that feed and serve us, too. This month I gathered elderflowers and made cordials and champagne. In the later months there will be blackberries, crab apples, sloes and plums, all of which I shall put to good use.

I agree that when the daffodils along the roadsides have finished blooming they look untidy, but gardeners are told not to remove the leaves until they die back naturally, giving the bulbs time to absorb nutrients. Don't they look glorious in spring, cheering us up?

Obviously our roundabouts and roadside verges should be kept in good order. Once upon a time most of them were sponsored by local companies; is this no longer the case?

I'm proud of our town and want it presented to visitors to reflect this. Harlow continues to get a bad press even though it has many merits.

Jennifer Wright
Bishopsfield, Harlow

Apparently it's too wet to cut the grass verges

SIR, Reading the comments about the grassed areas was interesting.

I complained to the council regarding this and was promised a reply within 10 days. However, I was told over the phone it was due to wet weather.

Is this a wind up? Is it beyond the council to provide the most basic of

Photo of the week

READER Colin Ross took this photograph of a blue tit in the garden of his home at The Hill in Old Harlow a few weeks ago.

"I am fortunate to have a small haven of wildlife amongst many trees," he said.

"I no longer leave food out for small birds as they are easy prey for sparrow hawks and kestrels, as witnessed on several occasions. Their swift actions are so fast my little camera couldn't keep up!"

● Do you have a photograph taken in Harlow that you think is good enough to feature in the Photo of the Week section? If so, we would love to see it.

can to stand up for the people of the town, but whatever it does this Tory-led government is hitting hard local people who are already struggling to make ends meet and getting local councils to implement its dirty work.

Cllr Jacqui Cross (Labour)
Civic Centre, Harlow

Apologies for the delay in collecting bolt cutters

SIR, Further to the letter from Mrs Purdue ("Was call to police a waste of my time?", June 28), I would like to thank her for her vigilance and apologise that the bolt cutters were not collected sooner.

These have now been collected and will be submitted for fingerprinting and checks against recent crimes.

Residents are encouraged to continue to report anything suspicious to police on 101 or, in an emergency, on 999.

Chief Inspector Ben Hodder
Harlow District Commander

Benefit cuts will hit hard-working people

SIR, From next year the Government has imposed on all councils the job of cutting council tax benefits for ordinary working people.

Harlow Council has been handed a poisoned chalice and is required to implement a 10 per cent cut overall while ringfencing some groups. This means the council will be required to design and implement a system for awarding council tax benefits from April 2013, which will require the burden to fall disproportionately on some hard-pressed groups.

These cuts have left me feeling extremely concerned for hard-working people and their families, who are continually being squeezed.

The government is so out of touch with ordinary families that they seem either completely unaware of the problems facing people today – such as lack of affordable housing, rising food costs, cuts to benefits and wages, erosion of pensions and soaring unemployment – or they simply don't care.

I am sure Harlow Council will do all it

Pick up the phone and report shelter vandals

SIR, Why have we had yet another spate of mindless destruction of bus shelters along First Avenue?

Why don't people who live nearby appear not to hear anything and seem to ignore any noise created by this vandalism?

The people involved in this destruction do not wreck the glass panels with a sponge. They must employ a considerable amount of effort using the boot, mostly accompanied with a lot of shouting.

Why don't people phone the police? They don't have to confront these vandals; a call from the inside of their house would avoid any threat to themselves.

Why doesn't it occur to these vandals that the broken glass is a danger to pedestrians and dogs and somebody else is left with the job of repair and cleaning up? It is always left for somebody else to foot the bill.

Why don't the parents of those responsible have any idea where their children are or what they are doing, mostly in the early hours of the morning?

Jo West
East Park, Harlow

Were you on this bus?

SIR, My mother, Olive Towns, was thrown from a bus seat on May 11. Readers may remember the Star published a picture of her injuries.

I would like to appeal to anyone who witnessed this incident to contact me. If you were travelling on the number 19 SM Coaches bus travelling to Epping at 1pm on that day, please call (01279) 310463. Thank you.

Crowds flock to fire station for open day fun and games

A FUN-packed open day at Harlow Fire Station attracted more than 1,000 people on Saturday.

Crowds flocked to the annual fundraising event which featured firefighting displays and a teddy bear parachute drop from the platform of an aerial ladder.

Visitors were also able to look around the station in Fourth Avenue, hop on board a fire engine and even test out some of the crews' life-saving equipment. The day raised £770 for the family of seriously-ill Brentwood firefighter Mark Rodrigues Dos Santos, who is currently in intensive care after being injured during a martial arts training session earlier this year.

Station officer Dan Byatt, of White Watch, said: "The day was a great success and many community groups and charities attended."

"A grand total of £770 was raised to help Mark who is in hospital fighting for his life after he was injured demonstrating a neck hold at a martial arts training session in April, so a big thank-you to everyone who came along and supported us."

Patient guilty of racist rant at doc

A FOUL-mouthed patient who hurled racist abuse at an emergency doctor at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital has been warned to expect a prison sentence.

Chelmsford Crown Court was told Simon Hobbs (41) took a swing at the medic after he refused to give him diazepam and then would not give him money for a taxi to get home.

The punch he aimed at Dr Basherat Bahir's chest missed the mark but made contact with the doctor's fingers, the court was told on Thursday.

A hospital sister testified she heard Hobbs use abusive language and repeatedly calling Dr Bahir "a Paki".

The defendant, from Bishop's Stortford, pleaded guilty to assault but denied it was racially aggravated. However, the jury took less than an hour to convict him of that offence.

Kate Davey, prosecuting, said the assault took place in the early hours of October 31 last year when Dr Bahir saw Hobbs who was demanding diazepam.

"Dr Bahir said 'no' and then Hobbs asked for money to get home and was again told 'no'," she said. "Agitated, he said 'I'm always here and you always kick me out'."

"During the examination Hobbs had been lying down. He stood up and tried to punch Dr Bahir with his right fist, which came into contact with the doctor's left hand although there was no injury.

star@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

"Hobbs was swearing, shouting and being abusive, using the word 'Paki'. He unsuccessfully tried to strike out at him again but the doctor was backing out of the room."

Hobbs told the court he had been unable to get medication for various conditions two days earlier and was in pain after having been sent home from the hospital.

"I got rather annoyed, I'd had enough," he said. "I got off the bed and attacked Dr Bahir. I connected with his hand. He started running off and I went to punch him again."

"He was then about 20ft away when I told a group of nurses they were a pack of ****s."

However, the court heard evidence from sister Dawn Power who said the abuse was aimed at Dr Bahir.

Releasing him on bail until August 3 for pre-sentence reports, recorder Richard Harrison told Hobbs: "This is a serious offence, aggravated in a number of ways. You must accept the overwhelming probability you will receive a custodial sentence."

The defendant was told he also faces the possibility of being banned from attending the hospital for treatment, apart from for serious injuries.

Cold-call cheques con warning

POLICE have warned households to be on their guard against cold-calling conmen behind a telephone scam operating in the Harlow area.

Officers are investigating reports of residents being duped into paying out up to £300 after being contacted by crooks posing as staff from firms specialising in securing refunds on payment protection insurance.

One potential victim was contacted by a man claiming to be from a company called Claim Line telling him he was entitled to two cheques totalling more than £7,500 as a refund on loans taken out in 1991.

He was instructed to go to a named local shop and buy a UKASH voucher for £250 to cover "administration costs" which would be collected by a solicitor before the cheques were handed over.

Later he received another telephone call asking for the voucher code number but he became suspicious and contacted police.

Harlow crime reduction officer Graham Anthony said: "These scams vary and include someone telling you there's a virus on your computer, refund of overpaid bank charges, offering a loan against prepayment or even an inheritance from a long lost relative."

Labour hopeful visits canal boat charity

LABOUR parliamentary hopeful Suzy Stride took to the water this week when she was invited to see the work of Harlow's Canal Boat Project.

The charity, which was recently renamed Canalability, was started 23 years ago to give disabled and disadvantaged the chance to experience boating on the UK's network of inland waterways.

It operates four specially adapted canal boats from its mooring at Burnt Mill Lane. They are currently used by about 3,000 people each year on day trips, short breaks or longer holidays.

The charity also runs training programmes so that people can become crew members and skippers.

Ms Stride, who was shown around by project manager Doreen Goodall, said: "Projects like Canalability are so crucial to local communities because they offer the chance for young people, the elderly, disabled or disadvantaged to get out of their homes and onto the water. "The project allows people to see a completely different face of Harlow and being out on the water is an incredible experience.

"It is also exciting that local people have the opportunity to be trained in qualifications that could see them being the skipper of a boat, clearly a project that not only taps into local potential but also shows the greater potential of Harlow."

Award for head who inspires pride in his school

A HEADTEACHER who gained celebrity status after his school appeared on a television reality show has been named regional headteacher of the year in the national Pearson Teaching Awards.

Vic Goddard, head of Passmore Academy in Traces Road, Harlow, was presented with his trophy during a ceremony hosted by judge and previous winner Sarah Dignasse.

Ms Dignasse said Mr Goddard had been nominated by a pupil at Passmore, which last year featured in the Channel 4 documentary series Educating Essex.

"According to this pupil Mr Goddard doesn't know the meaning of the word 'can't' and never, never gives up on making sure everyone achieves their best," she said during the surprise presentation which took place at the school on Thursday.

Ms Dignasse said it was the "incredible relationships" Mr Goddard had developed in the school that had really impressed the judges.

By VICKY LANE

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"He has created an environment where young people take an immense pride in their school as they know that he will be there for them whatever their interests or abilities," she added.

Mr Goddard, who will now be in with a chance of winning the national title during a televised awards ceremony in October, said receiving the award had been "lovely but uncomfortable".

"The job isn't about any individual so these things are always uncomfortable," he said. "It was lovely to hear some of the comments from the kids though as it is them that make the job."

"It is an absolute honour to be the headteacher of Passmore and I couldn't be prouder of everyone here."

Wizard way of winning a studio tour

YOUNG muggles in Harlow are being encouraged to demonstrate their passion for the world of wizards in celebration of the 15th anniversary since the publication of the first Harry Potter book.

Libraries in the town centre and Old Harlow are asking aspiring wizards and witches to write a letter of no more than 50 words explaining why they love Harry Potter.

"The organisers are looking for the most creative, clever and entertaining reasons and while the word limit is set to a strict 50 words, entrants are encouraged to draw and make their letters as elaborate as possible," said Jeremy Lucas, Essex County Council cabinet member for customer service, environment and culture.

"So come along to Harlow and Old Harlow libraries to show us how much you love Harry Potter whilst taking the opportunity to explore the other fantastic resources available."

The winner will receive a family ticket to the Warner Brothers Harry Potter studios in Hertfordshire and a leather-bound 15th anniversary edition of Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone. Fourteen runners-up will receive one of the special edition leather-bound books.

Entries should be handed in to either of the libraries by Tuesday, July 31.

HARLOW COLLEGE Performing arts and dance students are jumping for joy after attaining the best results ever achieved at the college.

All 13 of students on the BTEC Level 3 performing arts and dance course received triple distinctions, with 10 receiving the maximum triple distinction star grades.

A college spokesperson said the results have served as a stepping stone for many of the students to progress to some of the country's most prestigious dance and stage schools.

Dance lecturer Charlotte Creagh said they were all very proud of the students, while colleague Lorraine Hodges added: "They've worked extremely hard, showing pure dedication from start to finish."

Assistant academy manager for performing arts Natalie Francis said: "I wish them all well for their futures. They have been the highest succeeding year group the dance course has ever seen and I am very proud of their achievements."

STEWARDS ACADEMY

Students shared their experience on the subject of cultural diversity with pupils at a junior school in Basildon.

A group of 34 students from Stewards spent a day at Greensted Junior School to give presentations on either their own country or ethnic origins or countries familiar to them.

They then took part in a school assembly before leading individual workshops to encourage their hosts to 'be the best they can be'.

Deputy head Marie Erwood said it had been a fabulous day. "Our pupils spent hours preparing their presentations which really showed," she said.

"All the pupils we met at Greensted School were a complete delight and I hope they will one day have the opportunity to visit us at Stewards Academy."

SCHOOLGATE NURSERY

Children showed they were good sports when they put on a display for parents during a mini Olympic event at the Carters Mead nursery.

A parade of homemade international flags led by the pre-school's specially crafted Olympic torch kicked off celebrations before the day's sporting events began.

Children competed in traditional running, bean bag, egg and spoon and hat and scarf races before teaming up for a group 'waffle' build.

Mums and dads even got the chance to race against other. Nursery manager Anita Parrish said: "We had lovely weather and everyone really got into the sporting spirit."

"We have a lot of different ethnic groups at our nursery so it was lovely for all the children to be able to represent their own country as well as teaching their classmates about where they are from."

The day I played in river pageant

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

DID you watch the Women's Royal Army Corps when they performed on the bandstand in Harlow Town Park back in the 1950s?

For one Nostalgia reader it was a particularly unforgettable occasion as it brought back many memories of the time she had once been a member of the elite group.

"Unfortunately I didn't get any pictures of the band when they performed in Harlow which was a shame, so I wondered if anybody had any," said Hazel Ross – formerly Sergeant Johnson – of Latton Green.

"I do have these pictures, though, of when I performed with the group shortly after joining in 1949 during a royal river pageant which was organised in honour of the beautiful Princess Elizabeth and Duke of Edinburgh."

Now aged 82, Ms Ross was born and grew up in Portsmouth.

She said her years with the WRAC band were an exciting time. "It was just after the war when I decided to audition with others for a new military band being formed down in Portsmouth," she explained.

"I was a violinist and ended up enlisting with the WRAC for just under five years. I also learnt the clarinet."

The band, dubbed 'The new Elizabethans' by Soldier magazine, ended up touring all over the country and even travelled abroad, playing in Germany and Holland.

"We gave concerts in Berlin to displaced people," said Ms Ross, "and then went on to Holland for Dutch radio at The Hague. It was a good life and I remember earning about £1 a week."

After marrying "handsome" engineer Jim, who she met whilst playing in the naval town, Ms Ross left the band to start a family. The couple moved to Harlow in 1957, the same year she thinks she and her husband took their children to see the WRAC play at the bandstand in the park.

"I remember it was wonderful to see them again and it made me miss playing with the group," she said. "Music is in my blood and I still play piano now for my local church which is good fun, though not quite the same as in my heyday."

● Do you remember the WRAC coming to Harlow or have you got any pictures from the event? Write to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JX or email vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Leg of mutton for less than two bob (that's 10p in today's 'new' money!)

DO you remember the days when you could buy a bicycle for £11/17s/6d or hire a car for £10 a week?

These clippings of adverts from the Harlow Citizen dated June 29, 1956 highlight how much times have changed over the past 56 years.

In those days a coastal tour around Kent and Sussex could be made for 17s/6d while a leg of mutton would set you back the princely sum of 1s/8d.

Regular Nostalgia contributor Ron Bill, who brought in the newspaper, said: "I just thought people might be interested to see some of these old adverts and the prices we used to pay."

"Things are certainly a bit more costly these days!"

1987 From the Star 25 years ago

➡ A group which runs a helpline offering support to victims of sexual abuse is facing its own crisis due to a lack of funds. The group is struggling after a £42,000 grant from Essex County Council was refused at the last minute. They said they urgently needed more money to be able to cope with the 2,300 calls they receive each year.

➡ A £2,000 grant to turn a vandalised playbus into a mobile crèche for parents playing sports was discussed this week. The council's leisure services department applied for the money through the Equal Opportunities Sub Committee so that mothers and fathers are not prevented from enjoying leisure activities because of issues with childcare.

➡ A number of council employees have been suspended while an investigation is carried out into an incident in the works department. A council spokesman said the workers would be suspended pending the outcome of the internal inquiry and any consequent disciplinary hearings.

➡ Harlow's night shelter is to receive an extra £1,000 in grant aid after a report revealed the plight of the town's homeless. It is hoped the money will be put towards the cost of a second employee to work at the shelter, which was deemed as a necessary provision for the town.

Mugly's pretty ugly!

A BRITISH pooch called Mugly has been crowned the world's ugliest dog.

The Chinese Crested canine from Peterborough beat competition from 25 of the world's most bizarre-looking mutts to take home the coveted title.

The only overseas competitor in the event which was held in the United States of America, Mugly was paraded in front of the judges while wearing a Union Jack coat, top hat and bow tie.

Proud owner Bev Nicholson (49), who had flown her prize-winning pooch all the way to San Francisco for the competition, told reporters the 26-hour round trip had been well worth it.

"I've had him since he was eight weeks old," she said.

"He's always had an ugly mug so that's how he got his name, but to me he's beautiful inside and out.

"I think everyone thought I was a little bit nuts doing this, so to win is amazing. I'm speechless."

Mugly's prize includes $1,000 cash, a year's supply of Doggie Dollar$ dog biscuits, a VIP stay at the Sheraton in Petaluma and a photo shoot.

Mugly, who is now eight years old, has held the title of Britain's ugliest dog since 2005 thanks to his unusual beady eyes and wayward whiskers.

Political thriller is stalk of the town

By CHRIS MOSS

THE murky worlds of politics and tabloid journalism are the subjects of a nailbiting new thriller being performed at Moot Hall next week.

Billed as a 'who's doing it' rather than a whodunit, The New MP will be the final production in Moot House Players' summer season – and writer/director Michael Branwell is confident it will be a curtain call to remember.

Taking its inspiration from the phone-hacking scandal, the drama asks probing questions about the potentially devastating impact of virtual stalking on the families of the victims.

"Ever since the scandal broke we have heard much about phone hacking and stalking of people in the public eye, but not about the strain it puts on the families and relationships of those being persecuted," said Michael.

"This is something I wanted the play to address. It is very much an exploration of those familial and political tensions and how they can be stretched to breaking point."

The play follows the tumultuous life of Londoner Angela Chichester (Claire Quiley), who has unexpectedly been elected Labour MP for a previously solid Tory seat in the West Country. But her triumph at the count is accompanied by personal tragedy and it's not long before she becomes the victim of a vicious and anonymous tweeter.

As private details of her personal life are slowly leaked to the red tops, the increasingly desperate MP turns amateur sleuth in a bid to unmask her stalker.

Is it her ousted Tory opponent Lady Margaret Branstion (Monica Albinson), her agent Peggy Flint (Rosalind Baron) who herself harboured ambitions to contest the seat, or Angela's millionaire husband Lionel (Geoff Leeds), whose business empire may not hold up to close scrutiny?

Or could it be her own mother, one-time left-wing militant Dot Mills (Bridget McAlpine) who's feeling neglected and lonely following her only daughter's political success?

"It's full of twists and turns and I think the audience will be in for a genuinely big surprise when the mystery unravels at the play's conclusion," said Michael. "On one level it's a whodunit that poses some very serious questions but I've also incorporated lots of humour into the script. Hopefully it will give the audience plenty of food for thought."

● The New MP begins a three-night run at Moot Hall, The Stow, from next Thursday (July 12). Performances start at 8pm, and tickets cost £8 (£6 concessions) from the box office on (01279) 639170.

Collaboration is a match made in Heaven

review

Music For A Summer Evening
de Merc Chamber Choir and Harlow Ballet Association
St Michael's Church, Bishop's Stortford

rose above this in Michael Branwell's sublime choreography, with a subtle dignity beyond their years.

This troupe of gentle, graceful young girls in deliberately understated white costumes, which the lone figure in scarlet complemented, added to the solemnity and joy of Fauré's Requiem, written on the death of his father. This was pure delight and an act of worship no less than Evensong would have been, the outstretched arms of the girls echoing the architecture of the building and the single male figure – Stefan Donovan, helping to lift their bodies and prayers to the heavens. Nadia Jones, whom Stefan lifted in the 'Sanctus' and at one point tossed into the air, is to be commended. It was a moving experience both for the audience and the singers, some of whom admitted afterwards to being choked with tears. I understand that this is to be repeated later in Harlow and London and I would urge all who had the misfortune to miss this performance to try to see it at another venue.

An interval followed to allow the audience to return to earth but I for one will not be able to listen to this music again without feeling that something is missing.

The last part of the evening was again devoted to the choir and they entertained us, accompanied by Chris Redman, with a selection of songs from Broadway and Elgar's songs from Bavaria. The soloist in the excerpt from Porgy and Bess had a voice that plucked at the heartstrings. They certainly 'made a joyous noise unto the Lord' and their audience went out into the night feeling uplifted.

Superhero returns to spin a new web

THE AMAZING SPIDER-MAN certificate 12A, 2h16m

EVERY great story has a beginning – Spider-Man now has two.

Following Sam Raimi's action-packed 2002 blockbuster comes this emotionally richer though equally exhilarating opening chapter directed with verve by Marc Webb.

Rebooting the franchise 10 years after Tobey Maguire donned the red and blue skin-tight suit as the eponymous web-slinger, The Amazing Spider-Man recounts the same origins story, albeit without cackling arch-nemesis Green Goblin or love interest Mary Jane.

High school student Peter Parker (Andrew Garfield) is haunted by the disappearance of his parents (Campbell Scott and Embeth Davidtz). He lives with his uncle Ben (Martin Sheen) and aunt May (Sally Field) and contends with all the usual growing pains, including persistent bullying from classmate Flash Thompson (Chris Zylka).

A tender romance with fellow student Gwen Stacy (Emma Stone) – the daughter of police chief Captain Stacy (Denis Leary) – keeps Peter on an even keel until he is bitten by a genetically modified arachnid.

At the same time, he discovers evidence linking the disappearance of parents to his father's business partner, Dr Curt Connors (Rhys Ifans). Little does Peter realise that Connors also has a secret alter ego: reptilian menace The Lizard.

The Amazing Spider-Man is a terrifically entertaining refurbishment of the Marvel Comics superhero, blessed with an appealing mix of high-octane action and humour.

A delightful scene on the New York subway, in which Peter experiences his abilities for the first time, is pure slapstick replete with a heartfelt apology to the poor passengers caught in the crossfire.

Technology has advanced in gargantuan bounds in the past decade and this film soars in the action sequences, some in first-person perspective to take full advantage of the 3D format.

Vertiginous sequences of the hero swinging between skyscrapers look stunning and digital effects are polished. However, director Webb is equally interested in what goes on behind the mask.

The tentative romance with Gwen affords a pleasing change of pace from the frenetically edited skirmishes with The Lizard.

The chameleonic Garfield tugs the heartstrings as a teenager wrestling with a destiny he never asked for, while his screen chemistry with Emma Stone sizzles. It's no surprise they are reportedly dating off-screen.

What The Amazing Spider-Man lacks is a scenery-chewing villain or that one defining moment that lingers in the memory. However, a tantalising additional scene, embedded in the closing credits, whets our appetite for the sequel which is already pencilled for release in summer 2014

The amazing Spider-Man? Almost.

SNOW WHITE & THE HUNTSMAN Evil queen Ravenna (Charlize Theron) incarcerates her stepdaughter Snow White (Kristen Stewart) in the north tower and plans to attain eternal youth by ripping out her beating heart. When the girl escapes and flees into the Dark Forest, Ravenna hires a huntsman (Chris Hemsworth) to track her down. But he falls under Snow White's spell and agrees to help her overthrow the evil queen.

THE FIVE-YEAR ENGAGEMENT San Francisco sous chef Tom (Jason Segel) meets psychology graduate Violet (Emily Blunt) at a party. On their one-year anniversary he pops the question but soon after their engagement party Violet secures a doctoral position at Michigan University and Tom selflessly sacrifices his career to follow her to the Midwest. However, the move puts the relationship under intolerable strain and the couple contemplate breaking off the engagement to pursue their career ambitions in separate states.

ICE AGE 4: CONTINENTAL DRIFT (Saturday and Sunday only) Manny, Diego and Sid embark upon their greatest adventure after cataclysm sets an entire continent adrift. Separated from the rest of the herd, they use an iceberg as a makeshift ship which launches them on an epic seafaring quest. Manny and the gang encounter exotic sea creatures, explore a brave new world and battle ruthless pirates. Meanwhile, while Scrat's reunion with his beloved but cursed acorn catapults him to places no prehistoric squirrel has gone before.

MEN IN BLACK 3 Boglodyte assassin Boris The Animal (Jemaine Clement) escapes from a high security prison and plans to travel back in time to kill the man who put him behind bars – Agent K (Tommy Lee Jones). Having ascertained the past has been altered, Agent J (Will Smith) travels back to 1969 to save his best friend from annihilation.

MAGIC MIKE Adam (Alex Pettyfer) lives in Tampa Bay with his responsible sister, Brooke (Cody Horn). He is looking for employment and a direction in life but doesn't think he has found the latter when he lands a temporary construction job alongside nice guy Mike (Channing Tatum). On his very first day, Adam is sacked and as he roams the town he crosses paths again with Mike, who introduces him to the local male nude revue bar, where delirious women thrust dollar bills at gym-toned Adonises. It transpires that Mike is the club's star turn and earns big bucks alongside fellow dancers Ken (Matt Bomer), Richie (Joe Manganiello), Tarzan (Kevin Nash) and Tito (Adam Rodriguez) under the watchful eye of manager Dallas (Matthew McConaughey). A mishap affords Adam a chance to perform on stage and before long he becomes a favourite of the female clientele. But adulation comes at a price.

KATY PERRY: PART OF ME certificate PG, 1h37m

IN less than four years, Californian singer Katy Perry has become one of the biggest selling artists on the planet. But over the past 12 months, her personal life has been under intense scrutiny as a whirlwind marriage to comedian Russell Brand fell apart.

Katy Perry: Part Of Me is a behind-the-scenes documentary tracing her ascent from gospel singer Katy Hudson to the present day with countless awards cluttering up the mantelpiece. The film captures the impact of divorce on an exhausted Perry as she takes her California Dreams tour around the world, intercut with energetic concert footage recorded at the Staples Center in Los Angeles.

While her on-stage shenanigans with a dancing cat called Kitty Perry certainly err towards bonkers, Dan Cutforth and Jane Lipsitz's video diary is a conventional fly-on-the-wall portrait in which we're treated to fans praising Perry as an idol who has given them the strength to embrace their uniqueness in a world of crushing peer pressure.

Concert footage showcases her tremendous vocals and zany costumes while stage design wouldn't look out of place in Willy Wonka's factory.

But inevitably it's the raw footage which makes the biggest impact, and Perry allows the cameras to keep rolling at her low ebb. From the moment Brand wanders into shot we're braced for the emotional car crash.

Sure enough, she breaks down before a concert in Sao Paulo, sobbing uncontrollably as the reality of the break-up hits home like a sledgehammer.

Katy Perry: Part Of Me is surprisingly candid, exposing enough fragments of the singer's broken heart to convince us that this isn't just glossy self-promotion.

Financial Clout

One of the greatest frustrations in selling a property is delay. Delay not only causes anxiety, but also provides more time in which the buyer or seller can reconsider their position and withdraw from a purchase or sale.

As our objective is to help you move with minimal stress, it is essential that we are able to do everything in our power to speed up your sale.

Apart from keeping a keen eye on the progress of any related transactions, one of the most effective ways of speeding up a sale is for your estate agent to be involved in the financial arrangements, particularly with regard to your buyer's mortgage. This is especially important now that mortgage finance has become more difficult to source.

We therefore use experienced, qualified and competent independent financial advisers (IFAs) who can help pre-qualify buyers. When a pre-qualified buyer makes an offer on one of our clients' properties, it is reassuring to know that they should be able to proceed without hindrance. References, credit history and anything else needed to qualify that buyer's mortgage will already have been approved in advance, subject only to mortgage valuation of the property. (This is also useful if you are a buyer because it potentially puts you in a stronger negotiating position).

Additionally, our IFAs use a mortgage sourcing system that gives instant access to hundreds of mortgage products from numerous sources, thereby making it easy to satisfy even the most challenging requirements. This includes buy-to-let and remortgages as well. The IFA will then explain the details in a language that you can understand and at a time and pace to suit you. Offers can sometimes be generated surprisingly quickly.

Going further, we can also arrange mortgage protection, buildings and content insurance, legal and survey work during the same meeting, saving buyer and seller a great deal of time. And of course, you'll be kept informed thereafter every step of the way by one of our empathetic team members who are as keen as you that your move is smooth.

Cream of the bread and butter

By Matt Joy

WHEN you are a major international car manufacturer, a glorious range-topping supercar is only ever a small part of the picture.

Audi has that covered of course; witness the R8, which has just appeared in yet another iteration to tempt those seeking an even more thrilling combination of exclusivity and performance. What matters more is the bread and butter stuff – which is where the latest A3 comes in.

Since the German firm first entered the premium compact segment in 1996 it has sold a remarkable 2.7 million A3s spread over two generations – even more impressive when you consider that the segment didn't really exist before then. But where there is success there is greater competition, which is why the latest A3 has an even tougher fight on its hands.

It's not hard to spot that this is an A3, of course. Subtle evolution is the name of the game when it comes to the exterior design and, while some may have hoped for more, the truth is that the majority will be well and truly in favour. It's sharper, leaner and slicker with some edgier detailing all over, exactly what the majority of buyers are looking for. As always you'll want one of the bigger wheel options to get the best look, but it has class and presence to spare.

Then you climb inside, and where you would expect an Audi to be particularly strong, the new A3 manages to be even better than that. Compared to the last version the latest A3 has a more pared-back dashboard, with just a thin strip of switches across the centre of the dash sitting above the air conditioning controls. Pride of place in the centre of the dash is a large and attractive colour monitor.

Like much of the new kit in here it gives the impression of being taken from an Audi further up the pecking order – contributing greatly to the feel-good factor.

The other tasty inheritance is the touchpad device for the multimedia interface. First seen on the A8 saloon, this allows the driver to trace letters and numbers to input sat-nav destinations or telephone numbers. But new to the A3 is that this touchpad now sits in the centre of the large control wheel; a clever alteration that cleans up the space around the gear lever, avoids unnecessary clutter whilst still packing in loads of features.

And, of course, the materials used are first rate and it is all put together beautifully. Don't forget this is where you'll spend most of your time, and the A3's cabin is welcoming, comfortable and a pleasure to use.

There's plenty of substance to go with the elegant wrapping, as the new A3 has a longer wheelbase and is a fraction wider than before yet weighs as much as 80kg less thanks to an aluminium bonnet and front wings. Underpinning all that is a new chassis that is lighter and stiffer than before, while the impressive mix of petrol and diesel engines are either new to A3 or revised.

One of the most popular engine choices will be the 1.8-litre TFSI unit, and despite not being billed as such it is actually something of a discreet hot hatch.

With 178bhp and 184lb.ft of torque performance is not in short supply; 0-62mph takes only 7.2 seconds and the top speed of 144mph should cover most eventualities. That performance is delivered with slick assurance, with a broad spread of torque and effortless acceleration available with just a gentle squeeze of the accelerator.

Pair it with either the six-speed manual or seven-speed dual clutch DSG and the A3 can cruise, potter or blast with complete ease. Yet thanks to the weight saving and efficiency measures the combined fuel consumption figure of 50.4mpg and 130g/km is hugely impressive in its own right, never mind compared to the performance figures.

And the way the A3 behaves on the road is a reflection of the car as whole; controlled, refined and unflappable. The steering is undemanding when cruising but accurate and sufficiently communicative when pressing on, and the ride quality even on sports suspension is firm but comfortable. Push hard and the A3 is safe and predictable, but there is fun to be had if the mood takes you.

You could say that the new A3 doesn't represent a giant leap forward from the old car, but the truth is it makes significant strides in all the important areas to give an overall package that is very hard to fault.

It makes a whole lot of sense on paper yet it has the all-important desirability that will make your heart want it in the first place – no excuses necessary.

Drivers Don't Know When To Service Their Cars

Nearly 60% of Britains private car owners don't know the recommended service interval for their vehicle and around one in ten wait for it to break down before having it serviced.

The test, which asked drivers about their basic car care and car servicing habits, revealed that 38% of drivers were unaware that their car even had a recommended service interval.

Of those who knew it existed, one third admitted to not knowing what it was. Drivers of older cars are less likely to know their recommended service interval than those with newer models.

Nearly three quarter of drivers of cars over seven years old were unable to specify their service interval compared to 61% of drivers of cars between four and seven years old and 37% of drivers of cars under four years. However, drivers who rely on their cars to do a lot of mileage are more conscious of servicing requirements, with those who drive over 12,000 miles a year almost twice as likely as lower mileage drivers to know their recommended service interval.

Vikki Adamson, Brand Manager for Duckhams says, "Although recommended service intervals are becoming longer as cars become more technologically advanced, there is clearly a huge job to be done to help drivers become aware of the environmental and economic benefits of running a well-maintained car.

The potential gains in vehicle efficiency - such as reduced engine wear, fuel consumption and emissions - can also mean long term financial savings for drivers in fuel and repair costs."

Regionally, drivers in the North East and Yorkshire proved most likely to know when to service their car, with South Wales and the South West, Scotland, East Anglia and the North West least likely to know their recommended service intervals.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Manager's praise for Harlow AC

HARLOW Athletic Club men's team manager Catherine Bauer has paid tribute to the efforts of the side as they sit on the cusp of promotion to division one in the Southern League.

Bauer was speaking after the team made it four wins out of four with victory in their latest meeting at Mile End.

She said: "I'm really proud of the performance the team gave. It was an excellent result in very windy conditions especially for the throws and around the last bend for the sprints and the distance races."

Harlow should wrap up promotion in their last match on July 28.

"It has been some years since Harlow AC was last in the first division. We just need to keep our focus and turn in some good performances in the last match to ensure promotion," said Bauer.

"It's great to see that distinctive Harlow Vest winning so many events, following on from Andy Osagie's brilliant performance in Birmingham winning the UK trials and gaining his place in the Olympics."

Bates is best angler at Clavering fishery

>>angling

PHIL Bates was the best angler in the Stort Valley Angling Society (SVAS) meeting at Clavering Lodge fishery in Essex.

Despite difficult weather conditions, Bates, one of the Harlow club's newer members, netted an impressive haul of 45lb, 10oz to lift the trophy.

Mick Westby (29lb 4ozs) and Bill Beehan (25lb 5ozs) were second and third respectively.

A total of 261lbs, 12 ozs was caught by SVAS members.

Beehan was also among the leading SVAS members in an outing at the Grand Union Canal in Berkhamsted.

His haul was 24lbs, just ahead of third-placed Danny Cruse (23lb 5ozs).

This match was won by Kevin Shaw's fine bream haul of exactly 7lbs.

The total haul from 16 SVAS members was 149lbs, 10ozs.

The new river fishing season has got off to a great start.

Excellent water conditions on the River Stort in Harlow has helped several club members land fine bags of bream and tench in the opening week of the season.

Gardner digs UK gold medals

MOLLY Gardner starred as she won two golds and claimed a silver medal in a UK ISA (Independent Schools Association) mini Olympics national event on Sunday.

The Harlow Athletic Club member won the U-11 600m in 1 minute and 55 seconds at the event at Leicester.

The 11-year-old also won gold in the shot put. This was a discipline she had never competed in before, but Molly still managed a throw of 6.82m, a new record for her school, Howe Green in Essex.

Molly later clocked the second fastest 150m time of 21.9s to gain a silver. This was a personal best.

Her lead coach, John Stow, said: "Molly was brilliant and has clearly shown she has an all-round ability and maybe in years to come she could develop into a pentathlete or heptathlete."

Two wins were gained by Harlow AC athletes in the U-17 boys events at the Bishop's Stortford & District schools' sports competition in Wodson Park, Ware.

Will Snook triumphed in the 800m in 2:10 while his Bishop's Stortford High School colleague Sam Gale won the 1,500m in 4:20 in Tuesday's event.

Meanwhile, Mark Hall School student Canaan Solomon (13) set a personal best (PB) of 4:17.5 when he won the U-15 1,500m at an open meeting in Watford last Wednesday. He beat his PB by 10 seconds and this moves him up to 13th in the UK rankings for U-15 boys. Other results: Uttlesford & District Schools sports competition - Molly Gardner 1st Year 6 (small and medium schools only), 600m 1:58 (district record).

IN BRIEF: AN unbeaten 125 from Shiraz Ali was the difference when Harlow Town beat a depleted Nettleswell & Burnt Mill side by 48 runs at home in a friendly. The hosts batted first on Sunday and totalled 187-5 in their 35 overs with Scott Alderson (22 not out) making the second highest score.

Dan Stopp took 3-32 and top scored with 34 when the nine-man Nettleswell side replied with 139-8. They were bowled out in 32.2 overs and Sreerag Radhakrishnan (3-12) was Harlow's most successful bowler.

Town show their mettle against leaders

HARLOW Town had their moments but were unable to close the gap as they drew at home to Shepherd Neame Essex League division three leaders Billericay.

Town were 28 points behind Billericay before Saturday's match, but are now 32 behind the leaders and still in third spot, 20 points behind second-placed Hutton.

The hosts won the toss and elected to field.

This decision looked vindicated when Billericay struggled and slipped to 44-4 as Ashley Alderson claimed three early wickets.

The fifth wicket fell on 76 when Alderson caught Daniel Harford for 7 off Ramya Upadhyay and a low total looked on the cards.

However, the visitors fought back.

Paul Walter played boldly and put on 138 for the sixth wicket with Gary Haynes who made 61 before he was stumped by Pat Yates off Upadhyay. Walter ended up on 107 not out as Billericay declared on 230-6.

Alderson took 3-31.

Town's response was steady, but apart from a second-wicket stand of 68 between Yates (30) and Upadhyay, lost wickets at regular intervals.

Charlie Coleman (20) and Alderson (25) made starts but got out.

Only Upadhyay (76 not out) played a substantial innings.

He and Matt Hurley (13 not out) were unbeaten at the end.

Bilal Ali scored 84 for Harlow Town (187-4) when they beat Billericay (184-3) by six wickets in the Shepherd Neame Essex League (SNEL) 2nd XI division three.

Tim Poulter (38) and Max Poulter (46) put on 79 for the first wicket when Harlow Town (135-5) beat Belhus (134-8) by five wickets in the SNEL 3rd XI division three.

In the SNEL 4th XI division two, Harlow Town (125-9) hung on for a draw with Belhus (237-7).

Farewell to Chao for English finals

ALEXANDER Chao is set to represent the Essex U-12 team in the finals of an English national tournament in Bolton next week.

The 12-year-old Harlow Tennis Club member helped Essex qualify by winning his two singles matches by two sets to zero and 2-1 in the Aegon U-12 County Cup at Haileybury College in Hertford Heath, involving five counties.

In a separate competition, he won two of his four singles matches when Essex finished runner-up to Hertfordshire in the Lionel Cox Cup.

Chao is one of six youngsters from the Latton Bush-based club that head coach Will Calvert is confident will fare well in an Essex closed tournament at Thorpe Bay in August.

The Harlow youngsters have all played for Essex in the past.

They include Ben Stevenson (17) who has played at U-18 level, as well as Stewards School student Alex Dodd (13) who has played for the Essex U-14 team this year.

Ben Miller and Harry Melliush, who have just left Mark Hall School and are both 16, have played for Essex U-16s over the winter.

Calvert said: "They should all do well and one or two should go all the way. Ben Stevenson is a big favourite in the U-18s and Ben Miller is in the U-16s."

"Alex Dodd should get to the last stages of the U-14s and Alex Chao has a good chance to win it in the U-12s."

Stevenson, who won the Essex Open U-16 title last year, did well for Essex U-18s when they played in division two earlier this year.

The team played three matches and in the crucial one against South Wales, he won both his singles and doubles matches.

This ensured Essex were not relegated.

Calvert said: "He has done well and has a good all-round court game. He should do well in the seniors."

Dodd also played for Essex U-14s in the doubles matches in a regional event at Uxbridge in Middlesex.

The player joined up with Ajay Modwadhiya (Redbridge) to win his doubles match 6-2 7-6 against Jamie Hyles and Taylan Ozdemir (Warwickshire) as Essex won the overall game 5-1.

Dodd lost his singles match when Essex beat Northants on a tie-break and was also beaten when Hertfordshire defeated Essex 6-0 in the final.

Calvert said: "Alex has a good all-round game and volleys well for his age."

Miller recorded two fine singles wins against Hertfordshire (2-0) and Cambridgeshire (2-1) when he represented Essex U-16s in the Twelve Counties competition this year.

Melliush also acquitted himself well in this competition.

Alex Curaba (11) is also another promising player. He won the Great Baddow Junior Open in Essex, winning by two sets to nil in the final.

GB HOCKEY ACE HOPES TO FOLLOW IN FOOTSTEPS OF OLYMPIAN SALLY

GREAT Britain hockey player Chloe Rogers, from Great Dunmow, is on the threshold of taking part in the highlight of her sporting life, the London 2012 Olympics. The experienced midfielder has played international hockey over the past nine years after making her debut for England in 2003. Locally, she has played for Bishop's Stortford and Dunmow before playing at National League level for Chelmsford and Leicester. Rogers was selected to be in the 16-player Great Britain women's hockey squad last month and spoke to the sports reporter DAVID RIMMER about her aims as the Olympics approach.

Chloe Rogers is hopeful that she can follow in the footsteps of a famous Olympian Essex girl – by claiming a medal at London 2012.

It was exactly 20 years ago that Sally Gunnell claimed her gold in the 400m hurdles at Barcelona Olympics.

Rogers – born not too far from Sally's Chigwell birthplace in Harlow – can call Essex her home.

And although they have competed in very different sports, 27-year-old Rogers – who will line up for Great Britain in the hockey – hopes to follow in the footsteps of her idol Gunnell and claim a medal with Team GB.

"This was my first experience I can remember of watching the Olympics in 1992 [aged 7] and a female British athlete winning a Gold medal; Sally Gunnell crossing the finishing line and celebrating holding aloft a GB flag," recalled Rogers.

"I love all sports and that gave me a desire to want to achieve that one day and compete for medals at an Olympic games. I hope this will be the case for the London Olympics; that young people will watch the games and be inspired to be future Olympians too.

"With Sally being from Essex too, I got the chance to meet her at my local running track in Braintree a few years later and got her autograph which also encouraged me to push on in sport."

Rogers added: "It would complete the journey from being a 7-year-old kid dreaming of future desires and fulfil my life ambition to win a gold medal at the Olympics Games this summer. It would put all the years and years of work and commitments into perspective and be all worthwhile.

"Some people want it to happen, some people wish it to happen and only a few make it happen."

Rogers has enjoyed much success in hockey and claimed two bronze medals when representing England at the Commonwealth Games in 2006 (in Australia) and in 2010 (in India). Success is in her blood, but Chloe wants more.

The 2012 London Olympics is the big one and it is now less than a month away.

The wait has been long since it was announced in 2005 that London would host the 2012 Olympics.

Rogers cannot wait. She said: "I'm extremely excited. It has been a while waiting for this. It has been a good seven years and it's getting very close.

ON THE BALL:

Chloe Rogers is hoping for success with Great Britain at the London Olympics

Only way is a medal for 'Essex girl' Chloe

"The main thing was to get selected. It's an honour to play for my country and not many get the chance to have the Olympics in their own country."

Great Britain's women's hockey team are seeded fourth and their campaign starts with a group game against Japan on July 29.

There are six teams in the group and the last group game is against the Netherlands on August 6.

Games against Korea, Belgium and China figure in between.

The other group includes top teams Argentina and Germany.

The top two from each group will go into the semi-finals.

Rogers is clinical in her approach to the group stages.

As is the way with modern sports people no opposition is to be underestimated, but the ultimate goal is clear.

Rogers said: "We have five tough games and anything can happen. We have done well against the Asian teams. The Netherlands will be a strong test.

"Every game is important and we want to get off to a good start."

She added: "The Argentineans and Netherlands are the two top teams. Our record has been good over the last three years and we have won medals in tournaments.

"You want to win and go in with a high expectation to be the best in the world."

The incentive for Rogers has heightened since she played for Great Britain in the Beijing 2008 Olympics in China.

Rogers said: "I can take things from Beijing. It's a very steep learning curve being in the Games. I want to improve my performance. We were sixth last time."

The Great Britain team have steadily improved over the last few years.

A silver and bronze respectively this year in the Champions Trophy and World Cup are evidence the team is knocking on the door of an Olympic medal.

Although the final squad has been whittled down to 16, Rogers stressed the team ethos that exists is so important. It's a one for all and all for one attitude as the team prepare – there is no 'i' in team.

"We can play squad matches and it's designed to make us better," Rogers said.

"Over the last three or four years we have been full-time and the whole squad have become good friends."

Rogers has a feel for what to expect from the hockey venue for the London Olympics and for the atmosphere that will be generated.

She played in a test event at the Riverbank Arena in May.

Rogers said: "It's a fantastic venue when it was half full for the test event [in May] – it was fantastic and when you have 16,000 [a full capacity] and screaming crowds it will be unbelievable.

"We have never had such a big tournament in this country and it will be fantastic."

She added: "The pitch is a normal water-based Astroturf surface and it's blue rather than green. It will be a great chance to get hockey out there."

Expectations are high as Great Britain will be the hosts, but Rogers feels that it can be positive and not overwhelming.

She said: "People will be a bit nervous. It will be a positive, nervous energy and you can get the best out of that.

"It will be great to have my parents [Barry and Liz] and brother [Oliver] there."

Rogers added: "We have had lots of messages of support over the last year and I have had messages from people I used to play hockey with when I was 10 or 11. It has been great."

So, hopefully 20 years on, another Essex girl can strike gold – this time with a hockey stick in hand.

Watts' delight at Olympic hope Gemili's capital gains

SAM Watts has nothing but admiration and pride for his friend - golden boy Adam Gemili - as he prepares for his first Olympic Games.

It seems incredible to think that barely a year ago the Harlow-born sprinter was passing on tips to the Londoner about running a relay race!

Watts, 20, will carry the Olympic torch in Bishop's Stortford this Saturday.

He lined up alongside Gemili at the 2010 World Junior Championships in Canada and the pair have won medals together in the 4x100m relay.

Gemili earned his GB place at London when he came second just behind Dwayne Chambers at Birmingham in the Olympic trials 11 days ago.

Watts has high hopes for his pal.

Gemili was unheard of this time a year ago, but he will now carry the hopes of a nation into the Olympics in his home city London in less than a month's time.

Watts said: "He's a really good guy and he really deserves to be there. He is one of these freaks that come along every couple of decades.

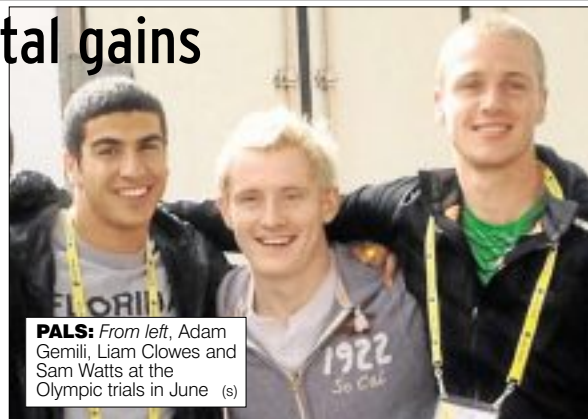

"I spoke to him and said 'be careful with your training'. That's the mistake that Mark Lewis-Francis and Dwayne Chambers made. That's why Great Britain does not have world class [sprinters]. A lot of them over train and burn out."

Meanwhile, Watts, helped his Woodford Green with Essex Ladies AC team to 4th in the second British Athletics League premiership fixture of the season at Barnet Copthall Stadium in North London on Saturday.

Watts' B-string 200m victory stood out. He clocked 21.57 seconds, the fastest 200m time of the day despite running in difficult, windy conditions.

The former Leventhorpe School, Sawbridgeworth student had earlier finished third in the B 100m (11.03s) and later ran in both relay teams, contributing a notable 47.8s split in the 4x400m.

Athletes on the up

HARLOW Athletic Club are poised to win promotion to division one of the Southern Men's League.

This was after they made it four wins from four matches with a convincing triumph in their most recent match at the Mile End Stadium in East London on Saturday.

Extensive work had been carried out at the track in preparation for the USA team, who will be using the venue as their training base ahead of the Olympic Games.

Harlow won the match with 174 points and were 25 ahead of their nearest rivals, home team Victoria Park & Tower Hamlets (149).

Youngster Will Snook clocked an excellent personal best (PB) of 1 min 59.7s to come first in the A string 800m.

He was only 0.2 seconds off a Grade

GREAT DAY: Will Snook (HSP0836643)

2 Standard for an U-17 athlete.

A PB was also recorded by U-17 athlete Will Gale when he completed the B 800m in 2:03.0.

Liam Mistry, who ran the B string 5,000m in the absence of Jamie Jephcott, clocked a PB of 18 minutes 07.3 seconds for second spot.

Mistry has only run this distance once before - and this was a fun run!

He said: "I really enjoyed the race. It gave me a chance to see what I can do at this distance."

Meanwhile, Mark Harris won the A 1,500m in 4:30.3 and Mistry came second in the B 1,500m (4:54.6).

Harris also won the B 3,000m steeplechase in 11:32.2.

Steve Murtagh showed his asset as a long-distance runner to the team.

He was second in both the A 5,000m (16:40.6) and A 3,000m steeplechase (11:15.3).

Dave Bauer, competing in the 45+ age group, excelled.

He won the A shot put with a season best throw of 10.79m. This was the furthest he has thrown in this event for five years.

He was backed up by Glen Paxman who won the B string (8.97m).

Bauer also triumphed in the A discus with a throw of 36.15m.

Bauer said: "It was difficult for the discus due to the strong winds causing the discus to stall. This cut distances by around five metres."

Veteran Chris Clark won the B string with a season best of 23.82m.

He was also second in the B hammer (21.25m), while Bauer took part in the A event and was third (34.04m).

The javelin proved to be a difficult event for Craig Snook (40+ age group) and Glen Paxman as the relay runway had a lot of debris on the surface.

This made it difficult for throwers to grip even with javelin boots on with long spikes.

Snook snr was second in the A string (37.96m), while Paxman was first in the B string (33.67m).

This duo also won the A and B string pole vault with Paxman clearing 2.80m to equal his PB and Snook managing 2.40m.

Paxman registered 1.60m to win the A high jump, while Philipp Heinen equalled his PB of 1.55m to win the B event.

Paxman also gained second place in the A long jump (6.03m).

His twin brother Carl won the B long jump (5.67m), while Steve Down (40+ age group) was third in both the A 110m hurdles (22.6s) and 400m hurdles (63.6s).

Other results:- Glen Paxman - 100m A 11.8s 5th, 200m A 29.2s 5th, 400m A 2nd 53.2s; Carl Paxman - 100m B 12.4s 4th, 200m B 32.1 4th, triple jump B 4th (10.15m) 400m B 55.4s 2nd; Steve Down 4th A triple jump 10.94m; 4x100m relay (Glen Paxman/Carl Paxman/Will Gale/Steve Down) 4th, 51.1s; 4x400m relay (Glen Paxman/Carl Paxman/Down/Mark Harris) 4th, 3:51.3.

Final results:- 1. Harlow 174, 2. Victoria Park & Tower Hamlets 149 3. London Heathside 147; 4. Marshall Milton Keynes 136; 5. Baintree 65.

Ex-player Kirnon haunts Harlow as Chingford go top

FORMER Harlow player Sam Kirnon returned to haunt his old team when Luke Heskett's side slipped to a heavy defeat at Chingford.

Kirnon, who played for the Marigolds side in the previous decade, scored 97 to turn the tables after Harlow started Saturday's clash well.

Chingford won the toss and elected to bat first.

Harlow's Andrew McGarry took two early wickets, but there was a partial recovery as Alfie Taylor struck a swift 28 before he was bowled by Ahmed Khawaja.

Khawaja then had star batsman Shabbaz Butt caught by McGarry at slip the next ball to leave Chingford reeling on 62-4.

The experienced Kirnon then joined

Chingford 241-5, Harlow 162

Harlow lost by 79 runs

Shepherd Neame Essex League, division one

Matthew O'Sullivan and the pair added 172 for the fifth wicket.

After Kirnon passed 50, he opened up and hit some big sixes and was finally removed in the last over by Khawaja three short of a century.

O'Sullivan made 87 not out and Chingford closed on 241-5.

Khawaja (3-95) and McGarry (2-54) were Harlow's wicket takers.

Harlow skipper Heskett said: "We bowled well, but failed to capitalise on a big opportunity having them 62-4.

The depth of their batting shone through."

In reply, Harlow's openers McGarry and Rehman Ahmed went without troubling the scorers.

Usman Jan and Khawaja took the score to 48 and both looked in good nick, but the latter was caught and bowled by left-arm spinner Ben Macgregor for 21.

Fifteen-year-old first-team debutant George Kenny kept his nerve and supported Jan in a stand of 35.

However, Harlow's hopes were dashed when Jan was superbly caught by Taylor for 54.

Harlow then quickly lost Kenny (8) and Andre Riddell (0) to leave them on 84-6.

The visitors' late order of Sukit Bastola

(22), Conor Ramsay (12), Heskett (30) and Jack Davies (10) offered enough resistance to get Harlow two batting bonus points.

But they could not stop Chingford from bowling them out for 161 to go top of the table.

Heskett added: "The batting was not good enough and too many of us gave away our wickets.

"George Kenny showed excellent technique and nerve for such a young player."

Other Shepherd Neame Essex League results: 2nd XI div two - Harlow 228-8 (Kyle Farmer 60) bt West Essex 127 (Kyle Farmer 5-48); 3rd XI div two: Harlow 250-5 (Muhamad Abid 68 not out) drew with Leigh-on-Sea 148-5; 4th XI div two: Harlow 228 (Ken Aldred 73) bt Leigh-on-Sea 165 (Niall Lawless 3-41) by 63 runs.
